

2019 ANI GOLDRICK SEMINAR

Maritime Trade and its Implications for Australia's Defence

Wednesday 18 September 2019

Co-convened with the Royal Australian Navy, the Australian Centre for the Study of Armed Conflict and Society, and the Submarine Institute of Australia

The 2019 ANI Goldrick Seminar will discuss defence issues associated with the maintenance of Australia's maritime trade. Speakers will be drawn from senior levels of Defence, academia and industry. As in previous years, the theme - Maritime Trade and its Implications for Australia's Defence - was selected by the Chief of Navy; an outcomes report will be provided to the Chief of Navy and it is anticipated that the proceedings will be subsequently published by ACSACS.

The 2019 Goldrick Seminar will comprise three sessions covering the Contemporary Environment, Different Perspectives in Protecting Maritime Trade and Policy implications.
